One of the most critical components of the organization’s mission is to pursue fair and equitable treatment of the outsourcing industry through legislative, regulatory and legal processes.

“We are thrilled to have URS join our association,” said Matt Rohs, President of AHIOS. “URS will now have the opportunity to promote and enhance the AHIOS mission of educating the healthcare industry about critical issues pertaining to the release of medical records. Now more than ever, ROI plays a critical role in the changing face of healthcare, and it is imperative to have members like URS contribute to the sustainability of this industry via the works of our association.”
